

Karinda Condray

A watercolor painting of a bird, possibly a quail or similar ground-dwelling species, standing in a grassy field. The bird's body is covered in a complex pattern of red, white, and yellowish-brown washes, giving it a mottled appearance. Its head is turned to the right, revealing a bright red crest or head. The bird's legs are dark and slender. The background consists of soft, blended washes of green and yellow, suggesting a field of grass or low-lying vegetation. The overall style is impressionistic and painterly. The text 'Karinda Condray' is overlaid in the center in a white, sans-serif font. A small signature 'karinda' is visible in the bottom right corner of the painting.